Local Businesses Donate 226 Eggs to Charity

Staff at Farnborough recruitment firm right4staff collected a massive total of 226 Easter eggs for a local charity.

Thanks to the local businesses who gave generously after right4staff appealed to its customers, the right4staff team visited Parity for Disability in Farnborough to donate the chocolate eggs and spread some Easter cheer.

Parity, which provides services and support for people with multiple disabilities in the local area, shared the eggs amongst its Farnborough and Camberley day centres, Teenagers' Activity Scheme and music therapy clients.

Natalie Brightwell, right4staff's Farnborough Branch Manager, said:

"We were blown away by the generosity of our customers in the area and would like to thank them all on behalf of right4staff and Parity. It was very tempting being surrounded by so much chocolate on the run up to Easter but we all resisted as we are committed to this great charity!"

Parity's Farnborough Day Centre Senior Keyworker Ann Fox said:

"It was great to get the support from local businesses and a nice surprise. Not only did the students enjoy eating the eggs, but they're being used in cooking projects too."
